SHERLOCK HOLMES AND THE PRECARIOUS POSITION

By Margaret Raether

Based on the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle

Directed by David Smith-English

June 26-July 20, 2025

Preview June 26, Opening Night June 27

When Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson are approached by twin sisters who have fallen victim to a shady employment scheme, the detective duo quickly find themselves navigating a mysterious web of intrigue and danger. Four talented actors portray multiple roles in this uniquely hilarious comedy, promising a thrilling adventure that is perfect for both Holmes enthusiasts and newcomers alike.

"There are a number of sayings about how healing laughter can be, and as a group, shared laughter is even better. Sherlock Holmes and the Precarious Position...is a satire, it is spoof, and it is downright funny...an excellent way to spend an evening (or afternoon) out."

— The Sound on Stage

"It's giggglelicious...And at 90 minutes, it is a little romp that will send you into the street with a smile." — Broadway World

“The Year the Yankees Lost the Pennant”

Directed by Karlyn Love

July 31-August 24, 2025

Preview July 31, Opening Night August 2

Faust meets professional baseball in this light, fast-paced and clever sendup of America’s favorite pastime. Joe Boyd is a middle-aged man who trades his soul to the Devil for a chance of a lifetime — to lead his favorite team to victory in the pennant race against the New York Yankees. A Broadway mega hit and winner of seven Tony Awards, including Best Musical, Damn Yankees is a wicked, romantic comedy with an irreverent sense of humor that knocks it out of the park.

“A truly tremendous musical.” — Journal-American

“Here’s a pennant winner if we ever saw one.” — Daily Mirror

“What fun it is, in this fantasy about the national pastime, to watch the Devil scheme, a temptress vamp, an old man turn young and scrappy athletes reverse their fortunes.” — The New York Times

DIAL M FOR MURDER

Adapted by Jeffrey Hatcher
From the original by Frederick Knott
Directed by Karlyn Love

September 4-28, 2025

Preview September 4, Opening Night September 5

A compelling adaptation of the suspenseful thriller that inspired Hitchcock's masterpiece! When a jealous lover's perfect crime goes awry, secrets quickly unravel, and the stakes rise in a deadly game of cat and mouse. Filled with sharp twists and edge-of-your-seat tension, this modern retelling will keep you guessing until the very end.

"Dial M for Murder gets an A+ for adaptation...with the heightened stakes of live theater." — Vanguard Culture

"Wonderfully theatrical...The pace is quicker, the dialogue is snappier, the women are smarter and more complex." — The Times of San Diego

"Clever, funny and fast-paced...Even if you've seen Alfred Hitchcock's 1954 film adaptation of the Frederick Knott teleplay, you'll want to see this smartly updated adaptation that has many surprise twists...but seen through Hatcher's fresh eyes, it's also timeless." — San Diego Union-Tribune
